Matthew,

The University Senate's Academic Standards, Regulations and Admissions Committee is the center of the Senate's deliberations on the academic calendar. That committee has long been chaired by Senate Vice Chair Martha Cotter, and is now also co-chaired by Senator Matt Winkler. The committee roster, which is online at http://senate.rutgers.edu/CommitteeRoster14_15.shtml, includes RBHS members, but I would need to do a little research to find out how active those RBHS members are on the committee.

We had some limited discussion in the Senate Executive Committee, on which Jerry Langer is a member, regarding differences in the academic calendars of legacy Rutgers and RBHS. I will bring your inquiry to the attention of the Senate Executive Committee. We may want to invite you to an upcoming meeting of that group, the next of which occurs on March 6.

Meanwhile, if there are specific issues you wish to address regarding the calendar, please forward them to me so I can consult with others in the Senate and get back to you.

Thanks.

Ken Swalagin
Executive Secretary of the University Senate

Ken Iuso has indicated to me that at legacy Rutgers, this responsibility falls under the University Senate.. Ken gave me you as a contact in this regard.. I wanted to check in with you to find out if RBHS was represented in the committee that develops the calendar and will be included in this process moving forward. I did not want to have us duplicating efforts and/or having inconsistent information..
